

PREGNANCY TEST CONSENT

CannaMD is required by the state to determine and document in our medical records whether or not a patient seeking medical cannabis care is pregnant or planning to become pregnant. If we determine that the pregnancy test results are positive, our physician may still recommend a certification for low-THC cannabis.

To comply with Florida legislation, we require consent to perform a urine pregnancy test on women of childbearing age on the day of their medical marijuana evaluation.

I consent to having a urine pregnancy test performed.

I decline having a urine pregnancy test performed.
